

The joint movement

An increasingly common choice is rosehip, again for the inflammation side. In fact, a recent study from Norway published in the Scandinavian

Journal of Rheumatology showed that 82 per cent of people with arthritic pain showed a significant reduction in pain when given rosehip extract for more than three weeks.